The United Fund Needs Our Support

Since the aftermath of Hurricane Camille, the Hancock County United Fund has continued its campaign drive through the month of November.

Many national agencies, which are supported by our local United Fund, were here during our time of need and gave untold relief and rehabilitation.

The National Red Cross has spent over (1) Million dollars and has estimated that the final figure will rise above the two (2) million dollar mark.

Catholic Charities has given tremendous help to the area and are still working in the coast area giving assistance where needed.

The Hancock County Emergency Relief helps locally when the need arises.

The Hancock County Retarded Childrens Association has lost its school and have been forced to obtain a new location. The Hancock County Blood Bank always has on hand a supply of blood for anyone receiving injuries or suffering from an illness.

Everyone in Hancock County and the coast area has received some kind of financial loss, but these agencies need our support over more, since they stand ready to help when help is needed. GIVE YOUR FAIR SHARE - THE UNITED WAY.

$5,482,191 Requested To Restore Coast Schools

First surveys of applications for disaster relief to 13 of the 26 school districts hit hardest by Hurricane Camille show that $5,482,191 has been requested so far to "restore school facilities to their original condition."

Of this amount, $3,700,879 has been asked for in federal aid, and $1,781,312 in insurance. No state or local funds are involved.

Dr. Garvin Johnston, state superintendent of education, said the greatest amount of damage to a single district was done at Pass Christian. Officials there have requested $1,774,317. Harrison County's second highest application involved $841,951.

The hardest hit single school was St. Martin School in Jackson County, where the water level rose to more than seven feet inside buildings. W. S. Griffin, director of the Division of Administration and Finance, State Department of Education, said St. Martin's school was destroyed.

PASS CHAMBER TO MEET
Marvin Barkodan, President of the Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce announced the first meeting of the Chamber's Board of Directors since Camille has been set for Friday night, October 31. Beginning at eight o'clock the meeting will be held in the Pass Christian Hancock Bank.

UNICEF

Building Permits Issued

	AUGUST 1969	NUMBER ISSUED	SEPT. 1969	NO. ISSUED
NEW CONSTRUCTION:
Residential	None	1	None	1
Non-Residential	$8,000	1	$8,000	1
EXPANSIONS, ALTERATIONS, AND REPAIRS	000	1	$20,973	10
TOTAL	$8,000	2	$28,973	11

In keeping with its policy of submitting as much information as possible to the public the Bay St. Louis City Council has released statistics on building permits issued by the City Building Department during the months of August and September, 1969. Building permit fees collected during the month of August, 1969, amounted to only $7.00. During the month of September, 1969, with 11 permits issued the fees collected amounted to $28,973.00. Only one new construction permit was issued in September. Ten expansion, alteration and/or repair permits were issued in September. For a total declared cost of $20,973.00 or an average of $2,097.30 per permit.

quest to date totals $937,817. Most of the money, $3,149,686, will be used to repair buildings and grounds. The next largest amount, involving $1,099,600, will be spent to replace equipment and books. Jackson County alone asked for more than $128,000 to replace ruined textbooks.

Although payment of funds will be made directly from the federal government to local school districts, the State Department of Education is the official agency designated by law to assist the schools in compiling their restoration requests.

Ben Dyal, fiscal officer for the state department who has been working with federal survey teams and local officials in the disaster area for the last seven weeks said, "Unless you've seen it, you don't know what problems are."

A list of relief applications, ranked by the amount requested so far, is as follows: Pass Christian, $1,774,317; Harrison County, $841,951; Jackson County, $837,817; Long Beach, $806,672; Biloxi Separate, $489,441; Pearl River County, $308,700; Piqueno Separate, $286,310; Stone County, $282,732; Lamar County, $271,304; Ocean Springs Separate, $271,039; Gulfport Separate, $236,900; Hancock County, $224,000.

The Hancock County and Gulfport requests are for temporary facilities only, and do not include restoration costs. State department officials said schools in the 26 counties declared disaster areas by President Nixon still have approximately one month to file applications.

Six disaster districts are not in compliance with the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Although previously judged by federal authorities as not eligible for federal disaster aid, local officials have filed or plan to file applications for federal relief anyway.

Dr. Johnston said state department staff members will continue to work with federal teams in the disaster areas until all applications have been completed.

MR. AND MRS. TOMMY B. BROOKS

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the setting for the wedding October 11, of Miss Judith Elaine Carver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carver Sr. of Bay St. Louis, to Tommy B. Brooks, son of Mrs. Modest Brooks of Batesville, Miss., and the late Ben D. Brooks. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Andrew Carver of this city and the late Mr. Carver.

Rev. Gregory Johnson, pastor, assisted by Rev. Charles Long, Picaune Baptist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Arrangements of white gladioli and pompons interspersed with pale yellow mums and greenery adorned the altar.

Dennis Carver, organist, cousin of the bride, played the wedding marches and a program of appropriate selections during the ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white, bridal satin fashioned on empire lines with bands of lace extending from the high neckline to the hem in the front and sides of the dress. Bands of the lace bordered the neckline and long sleeves and floor length train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion trimmed with lace appliques fell from a cluster of lace flowers scattered with seed pearls and she carried a cascade of white and yellow roses centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Howard Carver Jr., matron of honor, Bay St. Louis, wore a full length gown of mint green crepe. The empire style dress featured a high neckline and long accordin pleated trimmed sleeves. She carried a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses and tangerine carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony at 309 Thomas Street where the bride's mother received the guests wearing a gold crepe dress with brown accessories and a muted green orchid corsage. Mrs. Brooks chose a turquoise crepe dress, matching accessories and a pale green orchid corsage.

The bride's table overlaid with a white brocade cloth, was centered with a five-tiered cake decorated with pale pink spun sugar roses with mint green leaves and bunches of pale sugar grapes. The top tier held an arrangement of feathered doves and pink lilies of the valley. Pink blossoms and fern encircled the bottom tier.

Mrs. Mamie Carver, aunt of the bride, cut and served the cake and Miss Lisa Monti, a cousin, presided at the punch table. The guest register was kept by Miss Pam Dedeaux of Bay St. Louis.

For her wedding trip the bride chose a white bonded crepe outfit with brown accessories and a white and yellow orchid shoulder bouquet.

The bride, a graduate of Bay Senior High School, is employed with Moore and Powell, C. P.A. in Bay St. Louis.

N.O. Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra Appearance Stated

Despite the devastation caused by Camille, the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra will play a concert in Bay St. Louis on November 24th. Through the generosity of the orchestra, an afternoon concert is to be offered without charge to students of Hancock County, Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian and Long Beach, at 1:30 p.m. in the Bay St. Louis Junior High School Gymnasium. The orchestra, a business manager of the orchestra, made an offer of a free morning and afternoon concert immediately after Camille. The morning concert, however, was declined because of scheduling difficulties.

World-renowned Maestro Werner Torkanowsky and the New Orleans orchestra have appeared annually since 1964. After Camille the Coast Area Concert Committee felt compelled to cancel the engagement for the 1969 season. At once the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony Society and the American Federation of Musicians responded with their heart-warming gift to the students of our area. A concert costs $2,200.

Maestro Torkanowsky is one of the finest young conductors in America, his reputation is international. He has conducted for audiences in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Central America, Israel, Italy and in most of the important cities in the south. The New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony under his direction is regarded as one of the major American orchestras.

Large Lenders Mississippi Farmers

credit extended by lending institutions to Mississippi farmers came from banks.

He said that "bankers in Mississippi are conscious of the large capital investments required in agriculture today and are making a concerted effort through improved lending programs to meet these changing credit demands of the state's farmers."

The increased use of credit by farmers, according to Walter, has been accompanied by a substantial gain in the total assets of the farm families. Nationally, farm families have 243 billion of their own funds invested in agriculture. This represents 82 per cent of the total capital requirements of farmers.

He also stressed the importance of farmers and bankers working closely together to improve farm financial arrangements. He reported that nine out of ten insured banks throughout the country had agricultural loans outstanding, with 98 per cent of the banks in Mississippi extending credit to farm people.

MEETING A LEGEND - It was a big day for these cadets of the University of Southern Mississippi's Reserve Officer Training Corps. The men, who were among 19 named as Distinguished Military Students at the University, talked to Col. Jerry M. Sage after receiving their awards. Sage, left, a veteran of three wars, became a legend in his own time with his daring escapes from Nazi prison camps. His exploits provided the basis for a popular movie, "The Great Escape" and a best selling novel by the same name. The cadets with Sage include Thomas G. Brower and Jerome G. Parson of Mississippi City; Edward J. Shumaki, Bay St. Louis and Carlyn J. Laddner of Sauter.

Episcopal Churchwomen Convene In Columbus

By Joe Pilet - Staff Writer

The Rt. Rev. Christoph Keller, Jr., of the Diocese of Arkansas attempted to answer both lively and controversial questions put to him by delegates convening in Columbus Oct. 21-22, for the 79th annual meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Diocese of Mississippi. At that meeting a total of 243 persons were registered, representing 52 parishes, 138 voting delegates, 29 clergy, and 76 visitors.

Burning question of the hour concerned the voted $200,000 to be funded to the National Committee of Black Churchmen which climaxed an earlier and explosive church convention on the campus of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana. During that Indiana meeting Bishop Keller reported that microphones were rudely snatched away from speakers and an unruly mob of blacks and black sympathizers took over. Episcopalians are vague as to where the $200,000 will come from, however, Bishop Keller assured the convening churchwomen the funds would not come from pledges or from money put into the collection plates, purposes for which have already been designated. He also said that the voted $200,000 was not in reparation but more of a compromise fund since the group objected to giving money directly to the Black Economic Development Council. "A sloppy way to handle" was Bishop Keller's comment deploring the lack of guide lines. Without guide lines it is assumed nothing would prevent the Committee of Black Churchmen from directing funds into BEDC activities.

Trends within the churches for 1970 said Bishop Keller lean more reversal toward sectarianism and in guiding through this period of many changes and unrest Bishop Keller admonished: "Don't leave God out of the Gospel". He expressed the importance of faith, prayer and love in approaching problems and viewed with alarm the increased trend toward polarization. In closing his comments on these questions the Bishop recommended the EPISCOPALIAN, a monthly publication, as an accurate source of information on policy. He said the last issue of that magazine was a Mississippi issue and discussed editorially issues of importance to the group.

Earlier in the day Holy Communion, memorial roll call, and installation of officers was held in the St. Paul's church with The Rt. Rev. John M. Allin, celebrant assisted by the Reverends H. Hunt Comer and Charles E. Mabry. Incoming president to take office on January 1, 1970, is Mrs. Chris Thygesen.

Following the breakfast given in the Parish House, delegates convened for a business session during which time the asking budget to the Diocese of Mississippi was presented by the Department of Finance for churchwomen operational expenses totaling a proposed $4,075 expenditure for 1970. There was also an election of three delegates and three alternates to attend the Triennial to be held in Houston, Texas during 1970. Mrs. D. N. Magruder outgoing president was lauded for her exceptional devotion to duty and presented a past-president cross following her presentation of the presidential cross to Mrs. Thygesen. From a total of eight resolutions concerned with expenditures of funds to cover needs within the diocese a majority vote placed these funds "for benefit of hurricane relief" among the churches along the Gulf Coast.

At the banquet given for the group at the Downtown Motel-Inn on Tuesday evening Mrs. Thure Widstrom served as Toastmistress. The Right Rev. John M. Allin introduced the Rt. Rev. Keller whose topic was Living One's Faith. Mrs. John Brooks is district director of the Gulf Coast District and reported representation from eight of the ten coastal areas at the convention. There was no representation from Bay St. Louis Christ Church. From Trinity Episcopal in Pass Christian delegates were Mmes. Nunez C. Pilet, President of the women of Trinity, and Mrs. Logan C. Cline, past-president of that group. Miss Edwina Fountain of Biloxi Church of the Redeemer was successful in selling at ten dollars each decoupage brick from that destroyed structure. Funds will go toward rebuilding the church. Mrs. Cline reported success in her endeavor to sell Christmas Cards depicting the last Christmas Mass celebrated in Trinity Episcopal prior to destruction of that edifice by Hurricane Camille. Next convention of the Episcopal Churchwomen of Mississippi will be held in Oxford with the St. Peter's Church as host.

Some People Hate Winter.

OTHERS HAVE CAREFREE ELECTRIC HEAT.

Today carefree electric heat drives away those wintertime problems. There is no bother, no fuss — and you never need to call a service man to turn the heat on or cut the heat off. Electric heat has many important advantages: cleanliness, convenience, comfort, safety, ease of maintenance, and even temperature control throughout the home.

Electric heat fits your present home or a new home — it's flexible. A choice of heating units allows freedom in house design and selection of the correct system for your requirements. And there is a minimum of inconvenience during installation.

FIVE DIFFERENT ELECTRIC HEATING SYSTEMS CAN GIVE YOUR FAMILY TAILOR-MADE HOME COMFORT:

ELECTRIC BASEBOARD HEATING
This versatile machine is the most modern and efficient type of installation for weather conditioning your home. The electric heat pump heats your home in winter and cools it in the summer. You simply set your thermostat then forget it.

ELECTRIC WALL PANEL HEATING
Electric baseboard heating is produced by concealed electric elements controlled by individual room thermostats which gently circulate warm air. This method distributes heat by both radiation and convection to warm all surfaces evenly.

ELECTRIC CEILING CABLE HEATING
Electric wall panel units use heating elements fused in glass or metal surfaces, or heating coils behind decorative grills. Sunshine warmth is radiated throughout the room. They operate with or without blowers and may be controlled by individual thermostats.

ELECTRIC FURNACE HEATING
Ceiling cable heat is the truly invisible way to heat your home, since small wires are concealed in the ceiling to radiate a gentle even warmth. Heat in each room can be controlled by individual thermostats to maintain any desired temperature.

ELECTRIC SPACE HEATING
Electric furnaces provide a compact, comfort control heating system which may be combined with central air conditioning for year-round use. Temperatures are automatically maintained by thermostat for carefree comfort.

Heitzmann, Hazlewood Exchange Vows

Miss Erin Roberta Heitzmann, daughter of Mrs. Roger A. Heitzmann Sr., 338 Delmont-luzin Avenue, Bay St. Louis, and the late Mr. Heitzmann, became the bride of Joe William Hazlewood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hazlewood, Corpus Christi, October 28, in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Rev. Gregory Johnson, pastor, celebrant of the 11 a.m. Nuptial Mass, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with gold vases with white, yellow and bronze gladioli and mums. Tall baskets of similar flowers and palms were on either side of the chancel.

Seven-branched candelabra centering the altar completed the setting.

Mrs. John McKenna, organist, who played the wedding marches, accompanied Sister Patricia, C.S.J., Miss Inez Favre and Mrs. Robert Fayard, who sang Ave Maria, O Lord I am Not Worthy, and On This Day O Beautiful Mother as the bride placed a bouquet at the foot of the altar of the Blessed Mother.

Given in marriage by her brother, Roger A. Heitzmann Jr. of Metairie, La., the bride wore an appliqued silk organza over peau de soie A-line dress fashioned with Alecon lace bodice and sleeves and a high lace neckline. The detachable illusion train was finished with a wide edging of the lace. A cathedral veil which flowed the length of her train and a finger tip blusher was held in place by a lace bow lightly trosted with pearls and crystals and she carried an elongated cathedral cascade of carnations, English ivy and baby's breath with a white orchid.

Mrs. Robert Floyd of Rushville, Ind., was her sisters' matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dewey Bobinger, Lucedale, Miss., Miss Stephanie Coffey, Springfield, Ill., Miss Sue Boswell, Tupelo, Miss., and Mrs. Tommy Davis, Hattiesburg.

They wore gowns of Emerald green Jakarta with empire A-line effect accented by Venice lace under the empire bodice, on the short sleeves and on the train. They carried bouquets of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums, wheat and fall tone leaves and wore bronze flowers in their hair.

Tom H. Hazlewood, Norman, Okla., twin brother of the groom, served as best man. Robert Clark, Norman, Okla., Dick Clark, Moore, Okla., Alvin Genin Jr., Bay St. Louis and James Moorehead, Norman, Okla., were groomsmen and Ben Walter, Jackson, Miss., and Alvin Genin Jr. were ushers. Bobby Floyd, nephew of the bride, and George Piazza, Bay St. Louis, a cousin, served as altar boys.

A reception was held in Our Lady of the Gulf cafeteria following the ceremony.

The bride's table, covered with white bridal satin with an overskirt of white net, held a five-tiered cake, separated by Grecian columns. Yellow spun sugar roses, pale green grapes and fall colored leaves decorated the tiers. A silver wedding cross decorated the top tier and leather leaf fern and chrysanthemums encircled the scalloped base.

For receiving their guests

Mrs. Heitzmann wore an aqua blue coat and dress ensemble trimmed with Venice flowers and pearls and matching accessories.

The mother of the groom chose a three-piece pink and white checked suit with navy accessories. They both wore corsages of sweetheart roses. Mrs. Bobbie Manieri, cousin of the bride, kept the bride's register and Mrs. R. H. Coleman, Bay St. Louis, aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl.

After the bride and groom cut the first slices of cake it was cut and served by an aunt of the bride, Mrs. John Damborino of Bay St. Louis and Miss Laura Ann Piazza, Bay St. Louis, a cousin, served as too girl.

For traveling the bride wore a two-piece outfit featuring a beige crepe A-line dress with a brown velvet bolero. Brown accessories and the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet completed her ensemble.

The couple will make their home at 8306 Vettors, Corpus Christi, Texas.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy, Bay St. Louis and St. Dominic-Jackson Memorial Hospital, Jackson, Miss. Until her marriage she was employed as a staff nurse at Hancock General Hospital, Bay St. Louis.

ROBERT B. CARTER (Center), machinist technician of the General Electric Co.'s Management and Technical Services Department, is all smiles as he receives special hard hat and certificate of membership in the national "Turtle Club" from his manager, Phil Caldwell, at the NASA Mississippi Test Facility. In April, a pipe being laid during test of a space vehicle stage slipped and spun, striking Carter in the head and knocking him to the ground. A safety helmet he was wearing prevented serious injury. Carter and his family live near Long Beach, Miss.

Hancock County Sweetpotato Crop Is Under Quarantine

The sweetpotato weevil occurs in 19 southern Mississippi Counties says M.M. Price of Gulfport, the District Entomologist for the State Plant Board whose district includes Pearl River, Hancock, Harrison and Stone counties are now under quarantine.

"We are now working, he continued, toward eradication of this pest from as many counties as possible in an endeavor to restore our sweetpotato crop to its former place in the state's economic level."

The entomologist may be contacted by writing him at Box 472, Gulfport or by calling him at his residence phone 832-2105 at night or weekends.

In a regulation adopted earlier this year by the State Plant Board, sweetpotatoes grown in a weevil quarantined area must be inspected and found free of weevils before being sold or given away. Each container must be tagged with a Manila colored tag showing that the sweetpotatoes have been inspected. These tags may be obtained from at one-half (1/2) cent each, from the District Entomologist in whose district the potatoes are located. The tags are numbered and a record made as to whom they are issued. Such potatoes may only be moved within the quarantined area. The Board also placed responsibility on merchants to see that sweetpotatoes they purchase from growers in the quarantined area carry such tags.

Sweetpotatoes entering Mississippi from the weevil free areas of other states must have attached to each container a green tag showing that the sweetpotatoes were grown, stored and inspected in a weevil free area of the state of origin. Sweetpotatoes grown in weevil free areas of Mississippi and other states can be sold anywhere in Mississippi, but it is illegal for them to move into a weevil infested area and then be moved back into a weevil free area.

Bell Telephone Adds New Science Film

A new Bell System science film, "Voices from the Deep," has been added to South Central Bell's film library according to D. H. Presley, local telephone manager.

The 12-minute, color science film deals with the latest in sea cable technology, particularly the sea plow developed by Bell Laboratories and its transistORIZED repeaters.

It also features underwater views of the plow burying portions of the Jacksonville-St. Thomas cable. The Jacksonville-St. Thomas cable, in the Virgin Islands, was opened in the summer of 1968 to help cuttle the growing volume of telephone calls between the United States and the Caribbean area.

Its capable of carrying 720 simultaneous telephone conversations.

Hawks Gunned Down By Vancleave 20-12

Friday night the Vancleave football team downed Hancock North Central's Hawks 20-12. Some bad breaks and some bad plays seemed to hold the Hawks down after a good start when they scored early in the first quarter after their punt was fumbled by Vancleave, recovered by HNC setting up the first touchdown.

Vancleave holding the Hawks scoreless made two touchdowns in the second quarter, one from seven yards out and in the last few seconds of the half made another from one yard out.

Control of the ball by Vancleave and most of the play being around the 40-yard line the Hawks never had enough room to run and their passing was not up to par. It did improve before the game ended.

A third quarter score by Vancleave came when an end got behind the Hawk safety and took a long pass for another TD. Vancleave went scoreless in the final quarter while the Hawks made their second and last touchdown on a 10-yard pass.

A Harvest Of New Books For All Ages

Teachers, librarians, administrators (and parents too) - everyone interested in fostering stimulating and relevant reading for boys and girls from pre-school to Senior High - will want to attend the exhibit of new library books which will be on display at Poplarville Public Library, Poplarville, Miss., from October 18 thru 28th, Thursday - Friday 9-12 Noon and 2-5 p.m. and Saturday 9-12 Noon.

The 800 titles comprising the exhibit are covered by annotated, curriculum-related, fully indexed catalogues which provide immediate access to the books of one's interest - in general or particular. The collection is broken down into 30 main and more than 100 sub-classifications.

The titles at the Primary level in part cover Living Things, Signs and Sounds, the Seasons and Alphabet and Counting Books; in the Intermediate range, they include Science Information, America Yesterday and Today, Other People and Other Lands, Interesting People, and Family and Community Life. Coming into the Secondary area with its widening circle of subjects, there are books about American History, the United States, Windows on the World, Science and Applied Science, the Space and Air Age, Guidance and Careers, Personal Development, the Arts Our Literary Heritage, Poetry, and Fiction (in rich diversity). Here is a collection of books overall that will at all levels help young and older children meet the problems, the challenges of our complex, contemporary world, that will extend the frontiers of learning, develop understanding; in addition and in good number are books to entertain and divert, to make reading sheer pleasure.

Books on Exhibit, who supplies the exhibit, is a national exhibiting enterprise, now in its 18th year. Its free service for schools, showing currently selected titles of 50 to 70 important juvenile, trade and university press imprints, has been enthusiastically praised over the years for the efficiency and time-saving organization with which it meets a general need. For librarians and teachers, for every professional and interested citizen -- for all who want to keep abreast of the best in this basic section of instructional materials -- the exhibit is an event not to be missed.

Super Tire Care To Safety

"4. Set the brake, put the car in gear and block the wheel diagonally opposite the flat tire (a small piece of 4x4 carried in the truck does nicely), before jacking up the car."

Obviously, it is better not to have a flat tire at all, so Mr. Fielder strongly urges proper care of tires. They should be maintained at the recommended pressure--with 3 to 5 pounds added for driving at speeds of more than 40 m.p.h. A constant watch for signs of uneven wear, making sure the front end is aligned properly and the wheels balanced were cited as vital to both a safer, more comfortable ride and longer-lasting tires.

But always be prepared, especially for the sudden flat or blowout. Mr. Fielder warned, "If you do have a blowout, don't slam on the brakes! It could throw you into the path or oncoming traffic or off the road."

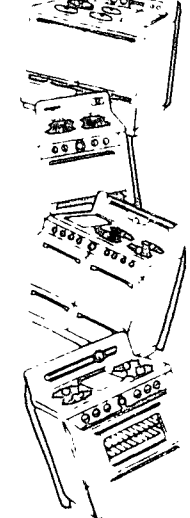

"A rear-tire blowout will cause your car to swerve from side to side. If the right front tire blows out, you will swerve to the right; if the left front tire goes, the car will swerve to the left."

Most people would instinctively grip the wheel firmly -- to keep the car in as straight a path as possible. Fewer driver, Mr. Fielder feels, realize they should also let up on the gas. Then, with complete control, apply the brakes very gently and slowly.

"But, get completely off the road," he advises, "and follow the other correct procedure for changing a tire. Otherwise, all the expert handling at the time of the blowout may be of little value to you."

Still Time To Salvage Camille Damaged Timber Says Council

Timber owners of South Mississippi who suffered losses to Hurricane Camille have some additional time in which to recover damaged timber, according to the Governor's Forest Disaster Salvage Council.

Although time is limited before rotting, insects and forest diseases make downed timber unusable, deterioration has not yet become a problem, Warren Hood, chairman of the Governor's Council, said yesterday. Hood reported that an inspection team from the Forest Products Laboratory and Mississippi Forestry Commission had made a survey of downed timber in the Hurricane Camille area to determine the stage of deterioration and found that, for the present, recovery operations can continue.

The inspection team reported the presence of southern pine sawyers and blue stain, both of which can cause degrade in lumber. There was also observed a significant population of Ips beetles.

Stating that the rate of deterioration lessens with the onset of cool weather, the inspection team pointed out that weather conditions would affect the available time for timber recovery. "Unseasonably warm weather could seriously alter this situation," the inspection team reported.

"This means," Hood said, "that timber owners with damaged timber should renew their efforts to get out as much timber as possible before deterioration begins."

"We would suggest that woodland owners who have a market for their timber arrange to do their own cutting and hauling, if at all possible. While many companies have moved extra crews into the area, it is still desirable that timber owners do anything possible to get their timber to the roadside," Hood said.

Hood added that wood shipments from the area are two to three times as much as shipped before the storm. "The companies are continuing to cooperate by shifting shipments to other areas and about 75% of the wood being cut is coming from private lands," Hood added.

A check by the council with pulp mills indicates that all will continue taking storm damaged wood for the foreseeable future.

The Council also amended its suggestion as to what damaged timber should be recovered in the first cutting.

Twelve Mississippi counties sustained timber damage from Hurricane Camille. Latest estimates place overall damages at slightly less than 1 million cords of pulpwood and 1.2 billion board feet of sawtimber.

Mr. Rudolph Wedgeworth of Saucier was in need of a new truck. He had been reading about all of his friends and the good deals they all had been receiving from Lamar-Lane Chevrolet in Bay St. Louis. As a matter of fact, a good friend of his heard that he was shopping around for a new truck and told him to be sure and get a Lamar-Lane Chevrolet price before he bought anything, because he knew from his own experience how much money he saved by shopping at Lamar-Lane Chevrolet. Joe Palazzo greeted Mr. Wedgeworth at Lamar-Lane and he told Joe what type of truck he was interested in and Joe went to work and gave Mr. Wedgeworth a Lamar-Lane price that was the lowest and best deal offered him by any dealership. People drive many miles to do business with Lamar-Lane Chevrolet because they save money by buying from them. Have you seen the new colors of 1970 Chevrolets on the new car lot of Lamar-Lane Chevrolet in Bay St. Louis? Stop by and ask for Joe Palazzo, he could save you many dollars. Newspaper Week Is Featured In Museum Display

The State Department of Archives and History, in cooperation with the 104-year-old Mississippi Press Association, will observe National Newspaper Week with an exhibit on early Mississippi newspapers, which opened October 7 and will run through November 30 in the Old Capitol Museum in Jackson.

The exhibit will include early 19th century newspapers in the original and on microfilm, a collection of Mississippi newspapers with historic headlines, and photographs loaned by the Mississippi Press Association of which Albert E. Fletcher, Jr. of Sardis, is president and George Lemot Sugg is manager.

The Department's methods of preserving newspapers by lamination and microfilming will be demonstrated in a case exhibit, and a microfilm reader will be available for the use of the interested public. The exhibit will include an early issue of the Woodville Republican, the oldest paper in Mississippi still being published.

The Sea Coast Echo is a member of the historic newspaper association and joins in extending a cordial welcome to citizens of Gulf Coast area to see this unique and interesting display sometime during November.

The recent cold spell plus the opening of some hunting seasons made many minds turn to the pleasures of the outdoors. Camille destroyed a lot of game and we are afraid rabbits, squirrels and other game will be a little on the scarce side. However, like people some animals managed to survive by getting to higher ground, staying under cover, etc. if you have noticed few birds are about and folks in the outlying areas report seeing very few rabbits. Regardless of this hunters will be out after what they can find.

Hunting dates, bag limits and possession are as follows: Rabbits - North of U.S. Highway 84, Oct. 4, Feb. 13, South of U.S. Highway 84 (Our area) Oct. 18, Feb. 13, Limit 8, possession 16.

Squirrels: North of U.S. Highway 84, Oct. 4, Dec. 28, South of Highway 84, Oct. 18 to Jan. 11, Limit 8, pos. 16.

Opossums and Raccoons. All year, Oct. 1 - 31. Taken for food without gun, Nov. 1-19, Taken for food - dogs and guns, Nov. 20-Feb. 15 - Dogs, guns, pelts and food, No daily bag limit, No possession limit.

Quail, Dec. 6 - Feb. 13, Daily bag limit 10, possession 20, Statewide.

Wild turkey: April 4-26, Daily bag limit, 1 gobbler, Possession 2 gobblers per season, See digest for open areas and local exceptions.

Deer (gun): Nov. 22 - Dec. 1st, Dec. 26 - Jan. 11, Limit 1 buck, Possession, 1 per season, See digest for open areas and local exceptions.

Deer (Archery) Oct. 1, Nov. 3 and Nov. 5 - 19, Limit 1 deer of either sex per season, Possession 1 deer of either sex per season, All open deer areas.

Mourning doves: First segment of season is over.

Second part of season, Nov. 8, Nov. 30.

3rd part of season, Dec. 20 thru January 12, Daily bag limit 18, Possession 36, State wide.

The season on Woodcock is Nov. 28 thru Jan. 31, Daily bag limit 5, Possession 10.

Wilson snipe: Dec. 13, Jan. 31, Bag limit 8, possession 16, Statewide.

The open dates for the hunting of geese, ducks, coots and other waterfowl will be given next week.

The Mississippi Game and Fish Commission and United States Department of the Interior furnished pamphlets on the hunting of game, birds and waterfowl. They are free when licenses and duck stamps are purchased. Be sure to get yours. Errors made in papers and ignorance of the law is no excuse when arrested.

According to Norvin Kelly fishing is good. About a week ago he caught boxes of bull croakers, speckle trout, red fish and flounders.

Chep Richardson was bragging about his new granddaughter, Tanya Marie. He reminded me of the time I baby sat for her mother at their camp on Blue Meadow Road, Shirley and Chep both love to fish. Fish fries are their specialty. Lucky and Shirley Layne are the proud parents.

Henry Myers, Jr., said he has been pretty busy fixing up his home. He expects to get back to fishing and hunting soon.

Jack Garriga puts away his fishing tackle this time of the year to go hunting. He claims it's rather hard to do both sports at one time.

On reports from a number of bird dog raisers distemper has hit the county for the first time in 26 years. Dick Mestayer and Willard Peterson lost a number of their prize bird dogs recently. They will be training young puppies this hunting season, no doubt.

Spent the past week in Baton Rouge with my son, Flashed, played golf and went dove hunting besides meeting a number of real people such as John Rustraph of the Circle Bar Ranch in Plaquemine, La. John's main sports are hunting and fishing and he does a lot of both.

was a pleasure seeing Charles Phillips of Baton Rouge again. He has fished at the Bay with us on several occasions. Waiting for that visit Buddy.

Dr. Clifford Comeaux, Jr., is one of those young, ambitious hunters and fishermen. Doc killed his limit of doves in nothing flat. Hard work and finding them is his secret.

Bob Searce has his own sports program on WAFB, Channel 9, Baton Rouge. Naturally he participates in most sports, especially hunting and fishing. A real guy to know.

Willet Chuzst of Lakeland, La., has a bar and caters to sportsmen going and coming to the fields. His past-time is hunting and fishing.

Charest Thibaut is a prominent lawyer and owns a large farm and camp near False River. Thanks Charest for letting us hunt on your place. He is a natural born sportsman.

C.R. McNeel is connected with the Globe Shopping City. He is manager of the tackle department. If you want something and don't know where to find it, ask C.R. he is a great help to all outdoorsmen.

Marion Craft, golf pro at the Briarwood Country Club on Airline Highway is another swell guy. Marion will help you better your game. Roosevelt, the bar tender is my friend, he says a little picker up don't hurt anyone.

Speckle trout fishing up Jordan River is improving right along. They were caught over the weekend by trolling, casting and bait fishing with live shrimp. Understand live shrimp can be purchased at Cospellch Ship Yard on Joe's Bayou, Photo Alfred.

Green trout are being caught most anywhere according to John Scafide Jr., Ray Garner and others. Fly fishing, casting and trolling, Pearl River and tributaries are ideal for this kind of fishing. Some are being caught up Jordan River and other local streams.

Squirrel and rabbit hunters report several good hunts. Secure your hunting licenses before going into the woods. It pays off in the end. Game wardens are on the prowl.

Boat owners are still busy repairing their crafts and getting them ready for some future fishing and duck hunting. Ducks are coming our way and there should be some mighty good shooting pretty soon.

Rock-A-Chaws Chop Down River Oaks 28 - 14

By Hy McElroy
The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws made sawdust out of the River Oak Panthers Friday night at St. Bernard Stadium in New Orleans by a score of 28 - 14. While the Panther offense was good it could not keep up with the Rocks who posted their second victory of the season against three losses.

River Oaks Academy made the first touchdown late in the first period when Bruce Baras took the pigskin over on a 40-yard run. On a fake punt Harold Baralora dumped the Panther quarterback behind the goal for a safety.

The Rocks scored next when on a four-yard carry Bob Edwards went over and Ronnie Onstait kicked the PAT. After half-time Bob Edwards ran for two more TDs, the first on a two-yard carry and the second on a six-yard carry set up by a 40-yard pass from Terry Phillips to Richard Campagno. Late in the third quarter River Oaks' Herman Landry connected with Ray Guillot for a 55-yard pass just one yard short of scoring. Three plays later Baras put the ball over. The last score of the game came when Terry Phillips carried for 15 and then for one which put the ball over. Onstait kicked the extra point. The Rocks will host Long Beach at three o'clock Friday afternoon.

Three Chosen To Direct March Of Dimes Campaign

State volunteer leaders who will direct the 1970 March of Dimes in Mississippi have been appointed by Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation - March of Dimes.

Named as state chairman was Mr. Owen Cooper of Yazoo City, president of Mississippi Chemical Corporation. Serving as associate chairmen will be Dr. Robert E. Carter, dean and director of the University of Mississippi Medical Center and Dr. Hugh B. Cottrell, executive officer of the Mississippi State Board of Health.

This highly respected and qualified team will lead the efforts of thousands of March of Dimes volunteers in Mississippi during the traditional January campaign to raise funds in the fight to prevent birth defects.

"We already have the weapons to prevent certain defects through the Rh blood disease vaccine and the German measles vaccine that is being readied for mass distribution, Mr. O'Connor said.

The disabling after effects of many other defects are being prevented by the kind of early diagnosis and treatment that is available at more than 100 March of Dimes Birth Defects Treatment Centers, one of which is in its ninth year of operation at the University of Mississippi Medical Center.

The importance of the task facing these men is pointed out by the fact that more than 250,000 American babies are born with defects each year. Birth defects are also the nation's second greatest destroyer of life, claiming approximately half a million unborn babies each year and killing 60,000 of our children and adults.

In accepting his appointment, Mr. Cooper said, "Dr. Carter, Dr. Cottrell and I recognize the urgent need for all-out support of the programs of The National Foundation - March of Dimes. We dedicate our efforts to improving the conditions wherever possible for the approximately 4000 babies which are born with birth defects in Mississippi each year. We urge the citizens of Mississippi to continue to demonstrate their concern by joining with us to meet the 1970 March of Dimes campaign in the fight against birth defects."

Mississippi Forestry Association

Meets In Jackson November 5 - 6

Among the list of speakers at the annual Mississippi Forestry Association meeting to be held November 5-6, Heidelberg, will be one of the state's congressmen and forest products committee executive, according to Colmer, Jackson, president.

According to J. R. Tobermann of Natchez, panel chairman, Nelson will review the 1957 forest surveys of Mississippi to give an idea of the effectiveness of conservation efforts during the past ten years. Wheeler will compare Mississippi's woodland resource with neighboring states. Squires will make predictions as to what actions will be taken by private and public organizations in the future to take full advantage of the state's timber resource.

Wheeler will speak at the banquet on the evening of November 5. He will be introduced by Don Caldwell, who will be featured speaker at the noon luncheon on November 6. He will be introduced by Warren A. Griffin, president of Mississippi Industries, Inc., Jackson.

Griffin serves on the House of Representatives and Currency Committee. He is a member of the Mississippi Bank Supervision and Insurance, and International Brotherhood of Bankers.

Mississippi State Fair One Of The Largest Ever

When the rides and exhibits came down, Mississippians once again recorded one of the largest State Fairs ever held in the Capital City.

The 110th anniversary of the Mississippi State Fair was a huge success. It will go down in the history of the state's second largest fair, said H. H. Anderson, general manager of the Mississippi State Fair Commission.

"Saturday was a single day in the history of the fair," Anderson said, "and admissions, which were on opening day, were the highest in the history of the fair."

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Tobermann of Natchez, panel chairman, Nelson will review the 1957 forest surveys of Mississippi to give an idea of the effectiveness of conservation efforts during the past ten years.

Wheeler will compare Mississippi's woodland resource with neighboring states. Squires will make predictions as to what actions will be taken by private and public organizations in the future to take full advantage of the state's timber resource.

Wheeler will speak at the banquet on the evening of November 5. He will be introduced by Don Caldwell, who will be featured speaker at the noon luncheon on November 6. He will be introduced by Warren A. Griffin, president of Mississippi Industries, Inc., Jackson.

Griffin serves on the House of Representatives and Currency Committee. He is a member of the Mississippi Bank Supervision and Insurance, and International Brotherhood of Bankers.

Griffin served for nineteen years on the staff of Representative Bill Williams. He was elected to Congress March 1968 to fill the vacancy when Congressman Williams assumed the Mississippi's Governor's office. Griffin was elected to the Congress without opposition in November.

Griffin, who has been associated with St. Regis since 1955, is responsible for all the divisions of the company. He has had experience in the management of several different types of mills including a paper mill at Pensacola, Fla.

Griffin was named sales manager of the division. The next year he was given responsibility for the sales of kraft board products. He was elected vice president in 1965 and executive vice-president in April of 1966.

Griffin will also participate in a panel discussion on "Look At Mississippi's Resources - Where Do We Go From Here?" Speakers will include John W. Squires, Forest Consultant, Jackson, Dr.
